

I do not "shop" by telephone and I was constantly receiving calls. When I would request that my name be removed from their call list they rarely did. I DO NOT WANT THE BOTHER OR THE HASSLE OF ANY OF MY CREDIT CARDS OR FORMER CREDIT CARDS ATTEMPTING TO "SELL" ME ADDITIONAL SERVICES OR PRODUCTS. They are rarely a "good deal." Since I have been on the Indiana "No Call" list my life has been wonderful. I used to get at least one call every night. Now I have blessed silence. If FCC "pre-empts" the state "No Call" laws I will have no choice but to conclude that the FCC is NOT working for the people of this country, but for businesses and special interests that are being thwarted by the current state laws. I've always considered myself a Republican, but I'd have to consider actively supporting the Libertarians if the state laws are not allowed to hold telephone marketeers to a higher standard.
